Interaction Designer

We are looking for an interaction designer or intern for a fixed period of 3-6 months for our office in Trondheim. Possibility of prolongation.

KADABRA Produktdesign is a design consultancy delivering services within product design, interaction design and design strategy. Our project portfolio is wide, including navigation interfaces and cameras, for which the common denominator is a strong focus on people centered design. We are a team of 5 designers, and we are looking for an interaction designer for a period of 3-6 months for our office in Trondheim, Norway. The work will initially be linked to one or several of our ongoing projects for clients - oriented towards design of user interfaces of electronic products. You have relevant education and experience within interface design. Alternatively you are in the last years of your master's degree in interaction design and are looking for an internship. You have a reflected view on design, technology, culture and people, and you have a specialisation or a particular interest in people centered design. Your skills include the following:

- Knowledge in methods of user involvement
- Knowledge in methods of interface design applied to physical products
- Strong ideation and conceptual skills for interface design (webdesign not so relevant)
- Prototyping of interfaces and user testing (using Flash or other tools)
- A keen eye on graphics, layout and implementation

Urgent! Please send PDF format motivational letter and cv / portfolio explaining your background, skills, and particular competences in the above mentioned fields to:
